

CONCURRENT STUDY IN TWO-DEGREE PROGRAMS

Concurrent (or simultaneous) study in two graduate degrees is rare, but not impossible. Students wishing to complete two graduate degrees must be separately matriculated into each, even if both degrees may be offered by the same department. Students must complete all of the requirements for each degree program, and must apply for graduation in each degree for the semester in which each is expected to be completed. Credits earned towards one degree may not be counted towards the second degree. Students working on two degrees at the same time should seek appropriate academic advisement for each.
