

URBAN EDUCATION WITH A SPECIALIZATION IN WORLD LANGUAGES (SPANISH), M.A.

New Jersey City University's Master of Arts in Urban Education with a specialization in World Languages (Spanish) is a comprehensive preparation program for world language teachers of Spanish that includes strong components in methodology, linguistics, Spanish language and the culture of the Spanish-speaking world.

The program consists of 12 credits in Spanish Language and Culture and 24 credits in Second Language Acquisition and Methodology. After completion of these 36 credits, students will be awarded an "M.A. in Urban Education" degree with a specialization in World Languages. The program includes the course Second Language Methodology I, required by the New Jersey State Department of Education for World Language Certification. Twenty-four credits will be recognized by the New Jersey State Department of Education towards Spanish Certification.

The program is aligned with the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC) Standards for beginning world languages teachers developed in collaboration with the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL), and the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers.

The goal of this graduate-level teacher preparation program is to develop teacher leaders with a high level of Spanish proficiency, a knowledge and appreciation of languages and cultures, strong pedagogical preparation in second language acquisition theory and methodology, and an understanding of action research.
